PRICE TWO CENTS

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY TO BEAUTIFY THE SOUTH POND SHORES

Leo Sevegney Just Released From Jail is Again in the Toils

Leo Sevegney is held at the police station for robbery and with him is Lewis Morris, who is also connected with the case. The case as reported is kind of a mixture. Sevegney and a man named John Morris hired a room together and turned in for a nap. Shortly after midnight Morris awoke and found that his room mate was missing and $20.00 gone from his clothing. He got out and reported his trouble to the police. Sevegney, it appears, met Morris on the street after getting out of the room and the two went to the playground off Parrot avenue. Shortly after arriving there Morris and Sevegney got in a fight over the money. Morris grabbed at the bundle and tore all but six dollars in halves. About that time Christopher Smart came along in an automobile and the men started to run. Smart gave chase and succeeded in catching Morris. He took the money from him and reported the case to the police. Officer Dwyer arrested Sevegney on Chestnut street and Morris was brought in later. Morris claims that he knew the money was stolen and that he attempted the second steal with the intention of giving the money back to the owner. Sevegney was only released from jail on Wednesday. Judge Smith will hear the case this afternoon.

Hon. Woodbury Langdon Contributes the Sum of $5000 for This Work -- Swimming Pool and Running Track Planned.

Hon. Woodbury Langdon who for the past few years has so generously contributed to everything that has been beneficial to Portsmouth has again made a most generous gift to the city. This time it is to beautify the South pond, adjacent to the Play Grounds and he has offered the Board of Public Works the sum of $5,000 to start the work of clearing the pond and making it a beauty spot. Mr. Langdon who has made possible a good part of the playground equipment and improvements, has long been interested in making the pond a part of the playground, and his gift is to bring this about. The plan is to rip up the sides of the pond—the entire way around above the Junkins avenue bridge and to clear the edges of deposits of rubbish and etc. A gate will be installed inside of the Junkins avenue bridge so that the water will be kept in the upper part of the pond at all times. Around the entire length of the shore it is planned to build a wide path of cinders which will be graded and laid out for a running track of possible a half mile in length. It is planned to clear up the shores as well as much of the bottom of the pond as possible and in time make a swimming pool there in connection with the playground. The work will all be done by contract and if the plans are got ready it will be started this fall. The South pond is naturally a beauty spot and if the plans are carried out it will make it one of the most attractive places in the city, making a continuous park around from the Haven to the Langdon park taking in the playgrounds. Mr. Langdon but recently gave the city the sum of $500. to lay out two tennis courts at the playgrounds and one of them is practically ready. He has contributed liberally to all of the funds to maintain the grounds and has been his daily visits shown a great interest in this institution which is a credit to any city. By his latest gift he has further endeared himself to the citizens of Portsmouth.

QUINN FOR SHERIFF Ex-Police Officer Wants the Progressive Nomination

There is likely to be three candidates for sheriff in the field at the coming election, the present incumbent, Ceylon Spinney, George D. Marcy and Charles R. Quinn. The last named is understood to be on the Progressive ticket in case such ticket is brought out. Reports have it today that a full ticket may be brought out in the fall. While there are several Bull Moose followers in this city the prospects are they will not have the opportunity to vote for the third party. It is understood that none of the Progressives figure on entering a primary election against the regulars, but will come forth on the Progressive ticket if there is one.

DENIES REHEARING

The public service commission has denied the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad for a rehearing in the case of Richmond, et al against the railroad, the case being that of an order issued for the providing of additional train service on the Portland division of the road. The commission has also filed with the Supreme Court its answer to the appeal taken to the order. Ex-Mayor Daniels of Franklin was a visitor here today. Alvah T. Ramsdell of Dover was a visitor here on Tuesday.

ROOSEVELT AND JOHNSON NOMINATED BY PROGRESSIVES

Progressive Convention Adopt Platform and Make Nominations Amid Great Enthusiasm.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York and Governor Johnson of California, were nominated for President and Vice-President of the Progressive party at the Convention in Chicago on Wednesday afternoon amid the wildest outburst of cheering.

The nominations followed the making of the temporary officers platform which closely follows the platform which closely follows the speech of Col. Roosevelt of Tuesday. A Chicago, Aug. 7.—The last day's session of the National Progressive convention was scheduled to meet at 11 a. m. but it was apparent as that hour approached there would be a delay in starting. The delegates were more prompt in reaching the hall than usual, many of them having mistaken the hour for meeting at 10 a. m. This was not true, however, of the spectators, and when 11 came the galleries were not half filled. A drizzling rain was expected to hold the attendance down. Then, too, the spectacular event of the convention—the reception to, and demonstration over Col. Roosevelt—had marked yesterday's proceedings. The nomination speeches were looked forward to with interest, but not with the eager excitement that had attended the first appearance of Col. Roosevelt before the body of delegates. Col. Roosevelt had announced in advance that his speech of acceptance today would be very brief, not over five minutes. Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California slated for the Vice Presidential nomination, also was scheduled to speak in brief acknowledgment of the honor.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR HORSE SHOW

The Horse Show to be held at Rockingham Fair, August 20 to 24, is international in scope, the 8,500 in prizes drawing the kings and queens of the tan bark arena from Canada, New York, England and from the Middle West. The rich prize will be hotly contested throughout the five days in a new and beautiful show ring now nearing completion in front of the grand stand. This portion of the great Exposition is well worth a long journey as never before in New England has such an aggregation of heavy harness horses been brought together. W. T. Macpherson of Boston was a visitor here today.

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Forecast for Southern New England—Increasing cloudiness. Thursday, probably followed by showers Thursday night or Friday; light to moderate variable winds, mostly south. LOCAL FORECAST—For Portsmouth and vicinity—Thursday, unsettled, probably followed by showers at night or Friday; moderate variable winds.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS HERE

Look Over Property in This City on Wednesday

The party of Boston and Maine officials numbering seventeen, who visited this city on Wednesday, include the heads of nearly all departments of the system. While here they looked over the new cooling plant under construction at the roundhouse, made a trip through the freight yard and on the York Beach and Dover branches. A dining car was attached to the train in which meals are served to the party on the tour over the system.

FILED BILL IN EQUITY

Concord, Aug. 7.—The Boston & Maine railroad has filed a bill in equity in the superior court for Strafford county to determine the powers of the public service commission in ordering additional train service on the lines of the road in New Hampshire. The case grows out of the discontinuance of an early train over the Portland division, which the commission, upon petition and after hearing, ordered restored.

FARMERS TO HAVE A DAY AT STATE COLLEGE

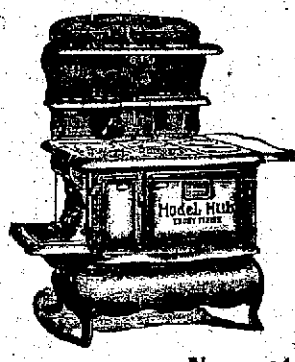

The following is the program for the Farmer Picnic and Educational of the most interest to the visitors. The first party will take a trip to New Hampshire college on Aug. 15. It is planned to run special trains from various parts of the state. 10 to 12 A. M. Visiting the college buildings and inspecting the work and equipment of the various departments. 12 M to 1.30 P. M.—Basket lunch, special hour with music. 1.30 P. M.—Address of Welcome. Dean Petter, Acting President. 1.45 to 2.30 P. M.—Agricultural Extension Work and its Value to the farmer. Mr. Wallace Buttrick, New York, Secretary, General Educational Board, The John D. Rockefeller Fund. Music. 2.30 to 3.30 P. M.—Some Possibilities in New England Agriculture. Mr. J. H. Hale, So. Glastonbury, Conn., President and General Manager of the largest peach orchard in the world. Music. 3.30 P. M.—Three parties will be organized, following the above program, to visit those lines of College. The following is the program for and Station work which should be of the most interest to the visitors. The first party will take a trip to the young orchards, vegetable gardens, etc., leaving from Morrill Hall. The second party will visit experimental hay and corn plots, farm crops, horse barn, grass and forage gardens, leaving from in front of Morrill Hall. The third party will visit the college woods and forestry nurseries, leaving from the rear of Morrill Hall. A local baseball team will challenge a team made up of visitors to a five inning game. Those wishing to do so may enjoy the privilege of dancing in the gymnasium, following the completion of the regular program. There is a good size crowd planning to accompany the P. O. U. to Concord on Saturday. If enough tickets can be sold a special train will be chartered and leave here at one o'clock and return after the game. The managers must know this evening to be able to get the train.

SPANISH FIESTA GREAT SUCCESS

Favored with ideal weather the Spanish Fiesta, given at the Kimball grounds on South street Wednesday for the benefit of the Equal Suffrage League, was in every way a great success. There was a good attendance at both the afternoon and evening performances and the entertainment was one of the finest ever given by amateurs in this city. The grounds were most attractively arranged with handsome decorations. Around the spacious ground were attractive tables where there was a sale of candles and tea was served. In the afternoon there was a solo by Mrs. Francis Bingham and a Spanish Dance by Miss Josephine Delaney, and in the evening Mr. Charles W. Gray rendered a solo and Miss Dondero sang a solo, while Master Hollis L. Gray had a little dance. Miss Delaney also repeated her dances. The pantomime was given at both the afternoon and evening performances and it was excellent. It was written by Miss Heffenger and it was presented by a very able and attractive cast of young ladies. The following was the cast: Zinzamerol, King of Shabawshikarana Miss Emily Staver Squealotta, Queen Miss Mary Heffenger Doloreso, Prince Miss Josephine Delaney Mrs. Austin Kautz Paffino, Prime Minister Miss Josephine Delaney Mrs. Austin Kautz Gagliola, Statue of Goddess Miss Josephine Delaney Mrs. Austin Kautz Hippo, Page, Miss Priscilla Heffenger.

P. C. U. START THE SERIES WITH A WIN

Defeat Y. M. C. A. in a Fast Game in Opening Game of Post Season-- Other Games.

GAMES THIS WEEK.

Thursday, P. C. U. vs. Riversides.
Friday, Elks vs. Knights of Columbus.
Saturday afternoon Elks vs. Riversides.

The Champion P. C. U. started the post season series on Wednesday evening, by defeating the Y. M. C. A. in a very well played game in which neither side were able to hit to any extent. The P. C. U. reached McPheters for three singles, while the Y. M. C. A. made five hits, one a home run in the last inning, which saved them a shut out. Several times the Y. M. C. A. were in position to score but good pitching and fast fielding prevented them reaching the plate.

McPheters pitched a fine game for the Y. M. C. A. after the first inning when he was inclined to be wild passing two men which, with an error was sufficient to score two runs. They scored another in the third on a pass an error and a wild throw to first.

The Y. M. C. A. lone tally came in the fifth when McPheters eluded the ball between left and center for a home run. They got another man around to third but failed to score.

The Game in Detail.

The Y. M. C. A. were up and McPheters fanned out to Hughes. Timmons fied out to left and W. Brackett singled, but was forced at second on Gowens grounder to Hoffman.

Kineade opened with a single, and he stole second. Hughes was passed and they moved up on a steal. Kineade scored on a passed ball. Hoffman walked and started to steal. R. Brackett threw to second. Hughes started for home, but was thrown out by W. Brackett. Frederick struck out, Kabalka fied to right and Remick fumbled, scoring Hoffman. Kabalka attempted to take third and was thrown out.

Score, P. C. U. 2, Y. M. C. A. 0.

Second Inning.

R. Brackett fanned. Remick was thrown out by Hughes. C. Brackett was safe on Dandaneau's error. W. Howard walked, but Bill Leary struck out.

W. Lynskey singled, he was advanced when T. Lynskey hit to Gowen, and he went to third, when Dandaneau was thrown out by C. Brackett. W. Lynskey was off third, and was caught by a pretty throw of Ralph Brackett.

Third Inning.

McPheters struck out. Timmons was safe on Kabalka's wild throw to first. W. Brackett was thrown out by Hoffman and Gowen fied out to Hoffman.

Thomas walked. Kineade singled to right and Thomas went to third. McPheters balked and then threw wild to first and Thomas scored and Kineade was sent to second. Hughes fanned and Hoffman hit to W. Brackett, who threw to catch Kineade off third and they had him.

Here Are Three Men Each of Whom Has Admirers Who Believe He Is The Greatest Player Ever Known.

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Who is the greatest baseball player? The answer depends largely on the place of residence of the man to whom the query is propounded. Loyal Detroit fans will unhesitatingly declare Cobb to be the greatest all-around player of this or any other age. He leads his league as a batsman and as a base runner. He is a hard worker, and he is always on his toes. That he is a great player will admit, but there are many who will declare that Hans Wagner excels him a few points. The admirers of the "Flying Dutchman" declare he is a little quicker thinker than the "Georgia Peach" and that he is more even tempered, and this is an asset. Wagner plays many positions with ability, and he is perhaps more versatile than any other player. Boston also has a candidate when the greatest baseball player is being chosen. He is Tris Speaker, the clever outfielder for the Red Sox. He is second only to Cobb as a batter, he has stolen almost as many bases, and though he has made fewer hits, he has a total of more bases, as he knocks the ball further and does not reach first so often on close decisions. Perhaps it is unfair to make comparisons, but so long as baseball is talked, such arguments will be heard. Fans will agree that these three athletes are all great, and all are ornaments to the great American game.

Dr. Wm. E. Barker Makes a Remarkable Statement After Traveling from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

As he secured some of the most notable endorsements to his theory he does not hesitate in saying that he will positively guarantee bloodline to cure stone in the bladder or any kidney or bladder trouble, no matter how long you have been suffering. Ninety seven per cent of the entire population of the United States are afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble.

In the last seven years bloodline has cured 98 per cent of the cases that have been treated with it.

Hundreds of cases of hemorrhage of the bladder have been cured after treatment in some of the bleeding hospitals have failed to even relieve the patient.

We are therefore confident that our theory of treating these cases with bloodline, is the only possible manner in which such a large percentage of cases can be cured that we do not hesitate to guarantee the efficiency of bloodline.

Mr. Hanson, the business manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Co., of Bideford, Me., had a stone in his bladder removed from six and one half bottles of bloodline, after being told by all the leading physicians in his vicinity that the only way it could possibly be removed was by an operation. We stand ready to furnish positive proof as to the above statement to any one doubting the truth of the same.

More than five million bottles of bloodline were sold in America last year. Can there be any greater evidence of merit than this unparalleled sale of a scientific product. No other product has ever met with such astounding sales in so short a period, and from a conservative estimate the sales this year will reach ten million bottles. 2880 bottles were sold in a single day in Cleveland, Ohio; 2160 bottles were sold in Rochester, N. Y., at the first day's introductory sale, and 1400 bottles in Patterson, N. J., in one day. No scientific treatment has ever attained such success in America. We are now supplying druggists with bloodline, for the convenience of those wishing to convince my back and strengthened my kidneys."

RYE BEACH DEFEAT YORK HARBOR

The Rye Beach team went to York Harbor on Wednesday and defeated the York Harbor team by a score of 8 to 3. It was a rattling good game up to the eighth when the Rye Beach team scored five runs.

Gile pitched a great game, striking out 19 men and allowing but three hits.

KITTERY LETTER

Breezy Items From Village Across the River.

Kittery, Aug. 8. York Rebekah Lodge held a very successful lawn party last evening on the grounds of the Noble Grand, a large number attending. Ice cream, aprons, fruit punch and home-made candy found a ready sale. The lawn had been prettily decorated with lanterns and flags, one feature being a well from which the punch was served. The busiest place was the fortune teller's tent, where one's future was disclosed, and which proved very popular. Mrs. Milton Cochrane gave a reading, and graphophone selections were given throughout the evening. A good sum was realized from the party. Mr. Fred Lane of New York has been visiting his little daughter Adelaide, at the home of Mrs. Charles Morse on Rogers road. Albert L. Sprague sang at the lawn party at Kittery Point Wednesday evening. Whipple Lodge, I. O. G. T., is planning for a public meeting some time in the near future. Mrs. George F. Philbrick of Manson avenue is improved from her recent illness. Mrs. Henry Shaw and daughters, Misses Arvilla and Emily, passed

Wednesday at Hampton Beach. Mrs. Lucy Burnham of the Intervene fell down stairs on Monday last, and is reported as being quite ill. Miss Jennie Pollard of Arlington, Mass., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jethro Swett, has returned home. York Rebekah lodge holds its regular meeting this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Philbrick of Rogers road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Riverside Lodge, I. O. O. F., are planning for a clambake on Aug. 24. A large number from here attended the lawn party on the grounds of the Congregational church at Kittery Point on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Fairfax Stinson was a visitor in town recently.

THE POPULAR TUNE.

The click of the typewriter sounds through the land, They're copying speeches with sentences grand. They're getting out letters to send far and near. Some open, "Dear Sir"; others, simply, "My Dear." They're framing up circulars which will include The public to try some investment that's fine; It may be a prize or it may be a "brick." The typewriter simply says, "clickety-click." New novels or essays with eloquent zeal Are flowing in torrents from some busy reel. The summer has blossomed and faded again. And the country prepares for the autumn campaign. The statesmen, the brokers and all other tribes Have rushed to the ranks of mechanical scribes. For Wisdom and Polly now dance hand in hand To the rhythm of "clickety-click" through the land. —Washington Star.

THE REGULAR FELLOW

The Regular Feller is one who kin smile. When everything goes dead wrong; Kin smile with a smile that's free from all guile. And tinker up some sort of song. The Regular Feller kin whistle a tune. When things seem to be breaking bad. He tries to be happy with what he has got. Forgetting what he might have had. The Regular Feller don't talk all the while. Like rattlebrained fellers all do. But when he says something just make up your mind. It's something worth listenin' to. The Regular Feller don't tell what he's done. Or big things he's going to do soon. He just goes and does 'em, and keeps his mouth shut. His secrets he tells to the moon. The Regular Feller has no time to stoop. And dig into other folks' ground. For small village scandal he cares not a whoop. He passes no gossip around. The Regular Feller speaks well of his kind. Or else he says nothing at all. There's no room for rubbish or junk in his mind. No room for the thoughts that are small. The Regular Feller does not slap your back. And brag that he's always your friend. But when you're in trouble and others all quit. He'll stand by you right to the end.

For PORTSMOUTH and PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS
Thursday, August 8, 1912.

The Boston Transcript says the senate might well make an investigation into the abuse of absenteeism which has grown so common among the members. There are said to be senators who have not been in attendance for months, and a number of states are represented by a single senator each. Senator Dixon, who apparently gives his entire time to the interests of his presidential candidate, is a leading example of official neglect.

The Boston Herald says Chicago dispatches tell us that "the convention cheered wildly the names of its favorites, such as Judge Lindsey of Denver, Medill McCormick of Chicago, Cecil Lyon of Texas, Controller Prendergast, Timothy L. Woodruff, James R. Garfield and others"; and that "the biggest ovation came when O. K. Davis read Senator Dixon's name." If the time should ever come when men of that calibre should be wildly cheered in a regular Republican convention, the party might justly be said to be on the tottlegan.

The New York World says only one valid objection can be urged against the bill of Representative Fitzgerald appropriating $250,000 for an exposition to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of negro emancipation in this country. The sum asked is too small for the occasion. The exposition should not be a "patron" one. It should be made as near as possible complete in every line of labor and self-comprehensive in its scope; ample in extent to show both what the negro has been able to achieve in his fifty years of freedom and what guarantee he gives of industry and of art for the years to come.

Col. Roosevelt might call on Carter Harrison to stand forth and explain that perpetuating a single name in connection with a high office is not essentially antagonistic to the American spirit.

Current Opinion

The Harvester Suit

The government is again moving to dissolve the International Harvester Company and has filed a bill against it, to which the corporation has made answer, denying that it is operating in defiance of the Sherman antitrust legislation. Much that the defendant company offers in support of its denial comes very near the truth; but the corporation is to all intents and purposes a trust. It is estimated that it controls about 70 percent of the harvester machine and agricultural implement business.

This corporation was formed 10 years ago by the amalgamation of five of the leading manufacturers of agricultural implements, and since that time has absorbed six smaller competitors, but for all that there is still some competition and the trust does not have everything its own way. It has built up an enormous foreign trade, chiefly with Russia, while amply protected from foreign competition by the tariff.

The capitalization of the trust is 140,000,000 and the dividends have been about six percent on this capitalization. Before the corporation was organized the business of the competing companies was so sharp that the rolls were very small, but since organization prosperous results have been reached, although the corporation claims that the prices of its products have increased but two percent in 10 years, while wages have materially advanced.

The moving spirit in the company is Mr. George W. Perkins. The answer of the defendant sets up the fact that the corporation is open to inspection and that the consolidation was wrought about to insure economies, an effect it asks to be regarded as a "good" trust, although it denies that it is a trust. The outcome of the litigation will be watched with interest because the government may have difficulty in proving that the corporation has unduly restrained trade.—Boston Globe.

THE MUSICIAN'S DREAM

The following "The Dream of the Musician" was written by Charles W. Janscom, Jr., a well known Portsmouth boy now living at Worcester, and published by the Worcester Gazette:

"I'm awful glad I met you,"
"Don't you remember me?"
"I'd like to be your honey boy"
In the land of harmony.

"A girlie was just made to love,"
"Give me a pleasing smile"
"Nobody knows, nobody cares"
For the maid of the Pango Isle.

"If you are no one's sweetheart,"
"Is there any chance for me?"
"Oh, what I'd do for a girl like you"
Beneath the old palm tree.

"When I'm alone, I'm lonesome,"
"I want you all the time,"
"Don't you remember" "what the gypsy said"
By the water melon vine?"

"Let's go into a picture show,"
"Lucy Anna Lou"
"Bless your ever-loving heart"
I'm awful strong for you."

"Are you as lonesome as I am?"
"Tell me with your eyes,"
"Come little girl, take a ride with me,"
"I love you," Anna Liza."

"My wife's gone to the country,"
"I wonder who's kissing her now,"
"Take me with you, Cutey,"
"Nobody loves me now."

"Meet me tonight in Dreamland"
"In a hammock built for two,"
"Give me back the kiss I gave thee,"
"Isn't that enough for you?"

"When the Autumn leaves are falling"
"Neath the old grape arbor shade,"
"I want a Yankee Doodle girl"
"So come my darling maid."

"Gee, but this is a lonesome town"
"Let's go where there's some fun,"
"Take me out to the ball game"
And "Make the umpire run."

"I want a girl like father had"
"Down in Melody Lane,"
"I love my wife, but oh you kid"
If I could see you again."

"You know not how I miss you,"
"Morning, night and noon"
"Let's go and face the parson"
And hear "That Mendelssohn tune."

What? "The golden links are broken."

National Progressive Candidate For President.

"That'll be my one regret."
"My wife's coming home tomorrow."
"Let's forget we ever met."

And then the alarm clock went off.

It is advocated by the advocates of the seven year tenure proposition now carried in the conference report in the legislative appropriation that it does not contemplate a wholesale dismissal of clerks and that the efficient clerk may be reappointed without being subjected to an examination in competition with men fresh from school and college who are better qualified to meet the tests. Let the text of the provision be examined. Here it is: "That on and after September first, 1913, all appointments to positions in the classified service of the executive departments within the District of Columbia provided for an annual rate of compensation shall be made after the probationary period shall have expired, for terms of seven years each; at the expiration of each such appointment the employment of such person so appointed shall cease and determine; and the employment of all persons in the classified service of the executive departments within the District of Columbia, at annual rates of compensation, who were appointed prior to September first, 1912, shall cease and determine, unless previously separated from the service, within one year after the thirty-first day of August, 1913, the particular date of termination within said year to be determined by the head of the department concerned, and on the basis of the length of service, within the classified service, of each such person prior to September first, 1912; provided, That all persons separated hereunder from the classified service shall be eligible for, and may in the discretion of the head of the executive department, be reappointed with out examination for additional periods of seven years, if at the time of such reappointment they shall be up to the standard of efficiency then in force and as hereinafter set forth, and capable of rendering a full measure of service in return for the salary of the place to which they may be appointed. Provided further, That in reappointing the force in any of the executive departments no honorable discharged soldier or sailor whose record in said department is rated 'good' shall be discharged or dismissed; and provided further, That nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the head of any department from removing at any time, in accordance with civil service rules, for good and sufficient cause, any employee of his department."

In other words, there are to be two classes of government employees hereafter, if the rule is adopted, those who are compelled to take an examination for reappointment at the end of seven years and those who are to be reappointed without examination in the judgment of the head of the executive department. There is under this system absolutely no guaranty against the use of the public offices for political purposes. There is no assurance of the maintenance of a merit system grappulously separated from political considerations. There is no safeguard against favoritism and the use of influence to secure for particular employees the protection of powerful personages. Every seven years Uncle Sam's executive officers will, according to this plan, separate his working force according to the traditional zoological classification and drive into one pen the goats that are destined for the trial of re-examination and into another those who are to be given the protection of reappointment without test.

Who, knowing the manner in which spoils system even now contrives and maneuvers to work around the civil service law, can doubt for a moment the breakdown of the merit principle in the departmental service?—Washington Star.

We have an impression that the Republican party will not be saved by the defense of its principles and its needs contained in President Taft's speech of acceptance. But we could wish that every man in the land would read his plain, simple straightforward, yet convincing statement of reasons why the Roosevelt third party movement should be treated as one of those recurrent humbugs that rise in politics, and like bubbles on the surface of a stream, may be followed by the eye for a time, until, in obedience to the natural law of bubbles and of humbugs, they blow up. Mr. Taft tells how demagogues have seized upon the opportunity created by the abuses of concentrated wealth to inflame the public mind, and make personal capital out of the peculiar conditions. He tells how they allure the disgruntled by promises of a panacea which they never bring forth. He suspects that the millennium they promise is a "condition in which the rich are to be made reasonably poor, and the poor reasonably rich by law," and he points out that the "social justice" about which they prate so much leads pretty directly to Socialism.

The present defects of our Government must be due to the failure of the people to devote the necessary energy to their political duties, for it cannot be denied that the Government is in the hands within their control, and if they choose to exercise it. The remedies by which the patent medicine peddlers would establish direct Government by the people would require "a political activity by the people three times greater than that which, thus far, the people have been willing to assume," a demand which would tire them into an indifference equally favorable to the control of government by the bosses or by the interests. Mr. Roosevelt's proposed recall of judicial decisions he advocates with great moderation as "a necessary" remedy. To the prevailing delusion that everybody can be made happy by new laws if we only have enough of them, Mr. Taft opposes the sound and prudent principle that "the fruits of energy, courage, enterprise, attention to duty, hard work, thrift, prudence, restraint of appetite and of passion will continue to have their reward under our present system," and that laziness and incapacity will find their punishment under any system.—New York Times.

CHAIRMAN SAYS PRINCIPLES ARE THE ISSUES

Hilles Challenges Wilson to Explain Just Where He Stands.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the republican national committee, started the actual work of the republican campaign at headquarters here this afternoon. One of his first acts was to issue a long statement in which he challenged Gov. Woodrow Wilson to explain "just where he stands in regard to the leading political issues. Mr. Hilles declared that the fight was between the republican principals and those of the democrats, and referred to the new personal distraction, declaring that from his very nature, it must be transient.

In speaking of the contest over presidential elections in Kansas, Mr. Hilles asserted that should the supreme court's decision be adverse to the republican party, there would be no attempt made by President Taft to put his name under a different emblem in that state and get his election by petition.

The chairman also mentioned the action of Col. Roosevelt in regard to the negroes and gave it his belief that it was a bold move on the part of the former president and one that would have a far reaching effect.

Just what he thought the effect would be Mr. Hilles was not prepared to say.

Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, who it is believed will join chairman Hilles in the management of the campaign had a conference with Mr. Hilles tonight.

"I sincerely hope that I can have the assistance of senator Crane," said Mr. Hilles. "The time he can devote to the campaign may in some measure, however, depend on the condition of his health. I have not

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—The striking employees of the Boston Elevated railway company won the last of their demands from the company when the state board of conciliation and arbitration tonight reported that all the men except those who had been accused of crime and not acquitted, should be returned to work at the old ratings.

The strikers had previously won practically all they requested. The board's report says this among others: "The company shall retire to the former positions and ratings such employees as were discharged from May 1, to June 7, for the reason designated as unsatisfactory service."

It adds that the men who are to be re-employed shall be returned to their employment as speedily as circumstances will permit, but all prior to Monday, August 19, 1912. The board suggests that the men be returned in the order of their seniority.

discussed with him whether he would sit on the executive committee. Mr. Hilles said that there would be no treasurer or advisory committee announced until next week.

RAN GAMBLING PLACE FOR TRAP

Story is That Protection Money Was Deposited by a Lawyer

New York, Aug. 7.—That Detective William J. Burns ran a gambling house and two disorderly houses in the Tenderloin and paid for police protection and then traced his money to the hands of a lawyer who distributed it to two police inspectors and a lieutenant, was reported today. District Attorney Whitman, when asked about the story declared he did not believe there was any truth in it. Burns declined to discuss the matter. However, the report was given credence in circles close to investigators.

Police collectors, it was stated, visited these places just as soon as they had been opened and, in the presence of stenographers hidden away, received protection money.

The money was found in banks, through the numbers on the bills, and in this way it was learned that a lawyer to whom the collectors had taken the money had made the deposits.

Then, it was stated, a complete case against several officials in the police department and the lawyer would be presented to the grand jury just as soon as District Attorney Whitman finished developing the facts of the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

Burns, it was declared, has been at work for three months—even before Rosenthal had decided to make his fight against the police in the open. Money for this purpose had been put up, it was stated, by a very rich man, and not until the forty-fifth street gambler was killed did the detective and the district attorney begin to work together. Since then, it was said, Burns has given the officials much information.

Report of Dictagraph
The number and street of the gambling house is not known, but that it was a well-fitted establishment near other finely equipped houses is confidently asserted. When the time came to open it was easy to find the collector for the police inspector and pay him money.

In this connection, it was said, some three months ago all the large gambling houses closed for a few days on a report that a dictagraph had been operating in one of them. The discovery was made later that the instrument was one of those Burns said he used in the aldermanic expose in Detroit—a telephone, by which conversations were carried a long distance to his stenographers in another building.

In regard to the disorderly establishments, the same authority is responsible for the assertion that about the same time—that is, three months ago, when Burns began his investigation—he sent for men and women employees in various offices and placed them in one house uptown and another in a different inspection district.

The same old story resulted. The police watched the furnishing of the houses and appeared for their protection money just as soon as they were sent for.

Has Corroborative Evidence
District Attorney Whitman has evidence, it was learned tonight, on which he expects to seek the indictment of two high police officials and a civilian employee attached to police headquarters on the charge of levying blackmail on gamblers and proprietors of other illegal resorts.

The men in question were all mentioned in the confession of Jack Rose, the self-accused graft collector of Police Lieutenant Becker, who is under indictment for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

Through private detective and a confession of "Bridge" Webber, the district attorney has obtained corroborative evidence of the alleged graft and upon this he is confident that indictments can be found.

These three men, together with Becker, collected more than $2,400,000 protection money in a year, according to the story told by Rose.

Business Prevents All Leading Tennis Players From Going to Australia This Year.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—America is to default its place in the Davis International lawn tennis cup matches.

Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States national lawn tennis association has been diligently searching for players who might possibly make the team.

According to Mr. Wrenn Maurice A. McLaughlin finds it impossible to make the journey to Australia this year, as his business will not permit. The same is true of William J. Clothier, Raymond D. Little, Karl H. Dehr and others.

William A. Larned the seven times holder of the national championship, is all the more disinclined to go because of his agonizing experiences with rheumatism in Australia last year. Consequently the task of sending a team is hopeless.

DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEAST

County Club Meets at Hampton Beach and Outlines Program.

The members of the Rockingham County Democratic club held a meeting at Hampton Beach on Tuesday afternoon that was largely attended.

Among those present was Samuel H. Feltner of Rochester who will be the Democratic candidate for governor.

President John L. Mitchell of this city presided, and in the absence of secretary Chauncey B. Hoyt, William H. Conlon was chosen secretary pro tem.

Before the routine business was transacted speeches were made by candidate Feltner of Rochester, senator George H. Guptill or Raymond, and Dr. Charles A. Morse of Newmarket, and Mr. Hayes of Manchester.

It was voted to request Eugene H. Reed of Manchester to be the candidate of the party for member of congress from the first New Hampshire district.

A committee reported the following persons to constitute the county ticket:

For sheriff, George D. Marcy of Portsmouth; for treasurer, Wallace Keizer of Danville; for register of probate, Lewis Dragon of Kingston; for register of deeds, Albert F. Priest of Newmarket; for commissioners, Mark Scribner of Raymond, J. Edward Pickering of Portsmouth, Myron D. Richardson of Berry; for solicitor, either John T. Bartlett of Raymond or William E. Marvin of Portsmouth.

Among those present were John H. Ekins, Thomas Smith, P. J. Kennedy, Alameda Churchill, Willie S. Day, Thomas J. Gile of Exeter, Col. Richard M. Scammon of Stratham, Dr. Charles A. Morse, Matthew Kennedy, Albert E. Priest of Newmarket, John W. Dearborn, O. H. Whittier, Melzar Lumbard, Fred Sanborn of Hampton, James Rowe of Brentwood, Otis H. Brown of North Hampton, Joseph Schurman of Greenland, Dr. G. H. Guptill, Walter J. Dudley of Raymond, Joseph Tilton of East Kingston, James B. Pickering of Newington, Mayor Daniel W. Badger, John L. Mitchell, H. Fleher Eldredge, Judge Calvin Page, Ex-Mayor George D. Marcy, Ex-Mayor John W. Bowers, John H. Dowd, J. Edward Pickering, John G. Parsons and William G. Conlon.

said that Mr. Kennedy can wear the garments of the full "sex" with the ease and grace of a Julian Bittage.
The action of the play takes place during the election campaign for United States senator and has many strong scenes as well as plenty of good comedy. The play for the last three days of the week will be a dramatization of the popular novel "Under Two Flags," a drama of more than ordinary value and one that has served as a vehicle for many famous players. As presented by Mr. Kennedy the play will lose none of its value as the company are well suited for the parts
assigned them and the popular star
of the company has a role especially well suited to his particular style
of acting. Performances will be given every afternoon and evening
during the week.

HAMPTON CASINO.

By special arrangement, Manager Hynn has been enabled to grant the numerous requests of the patrons of Hampton Beach Casino and retain the popular young actor James Kennedy at this theatre for one more week, which will positively be the last performances to be given here this season by Mr. Kennedy.
The plays to be presented for the last week are announced as "Why Women Hate Women" and "Under Two Flags." The bill for the first three days of next week will be presented by Mr. Kennedy the play will lose none of its value as the company are well suited for the parts
assigned them and the popular star
of the company has a role especially well suited to his particular style
of acting. Performances will be

Small Culture Profitable.

French farmers find small culture a profitable undertaking. As many as 600,000 "first quality" snails, the price of which throughout the year averages $1.70 a thousand, can be reared on an acre of land. They have to be fed only once a day, preferably in the evening, and though extremely voracious are by no means fastidious. After a fall of rain, which seems to sharpen their appetites, a bed of 100,000 will demolish a barrow load of cabbage in a very short space of time.

Judge and "Barmalade's Blush."

Judicial ignorance is generally assumed, but there are occasions when a judge is honestly lacking in knowledge. The other day a witness in an Australian court, casually mentioned that a certain thing occurred just after he had a "barmalade's blush." Judge and counsel were for the moment
"stuck up" by this hitherto unheard of phrase, but the fact was gradually elicited that it meant a drink of compounded beer and raspberry vinegar.
—London Chronicle.

Hair Fabrics.

In the manufacture of hair fabrics
the hair is reduced to a paste by a solvent and all kinds of hair and fibers are used. The paste is run through an artificial silk spinner and drawn from the spinner in threads. Some of these are a yard or more in length.
They can be braided or woven like apparent horse-hair. Hair composition of superior quality is kept for the manufacture of wigs and braids. —Harper's Weekly.

Queer Counting of Distances.

In the rural parts of Schleswig-Holstein people do not measure distance by miles, as we do, or by hours, as in other parts of Germany. They say that a place is a pipe, or two pipes, or three pipes off, according to the number of pipes one could smoke while walking there. Shorter distances are reckoned by dogs' barks;
a village under a mile away would be two or three dogs' barks.

Clocks Run by Fan Motors.

Fans actuated by currents of air have from time to time been used as motors for running clocks. One, by Lepaute, is in the Louvre, Paris. Benjamin Hanks, of Litchfield county Connecticut, patented one in 1783. In a more recent patent the weight it wound up by the current of air in a chimney which is stopped by a self-acting brake as the weight nears the top of its course.

The Wandering Jew.

Matthew Paris and Roger Wendover identified the Wandering Jew as Cer-phus, a porter in the household of Pontius Pilate. Other authorities identify him as Abasuerus, a cobbler of Jerusalem. The legend is far older than the events which it proposes as its central feature. In the course of its popularity throughout the middle ages it has acquired many foreign elements by accretion.

Fish Puzzles Scientists.

A quantity of extraordinary and quite unknown fish has been landed by a trawler at Granton, England. The fish were caught while the vessel was engaged in trawling in the North sea.
Fish-curers and experts state that they have never seen this species before. It has the appearance of a herring, but the head is pointed and the tail forked, while the eye covers the whole side of the head.

Formed Queer Alliance.

A pair of hankets made their nest in a beehive on a farm in Switzerland and have succeeded in coming to an understanding with the bees, so that both branches of the natural world dwell in peace and harmony together. The birds and the bees use a common entrance to the hive.

Being Practical.

Practical people are wise people.
Genius may create brilliant ideas, and be of a very active turn of mind, but money makes the mare go, and what practical people really wish is to have a pot, to have that full of potatoes and to have fire enough to make the pot boil.

Origin of "Mutt."

"Mutt" is a contraction of "mutton head," a term applied in ancient times to a stupid fellow, equivalent to "dunderhead" and "puddinghead." An old publication has it that "Columbus taught a parcel of 'muttonheads' that an egg might be poised on the smallest end."

Minding One's Own Business.

"I find it a simple matter to mind
my own business," says one woman to another. "What is much more difficult is not to mind when other people are minding mine."

Rival of Pittsburgh.

Because of the constant fall of smoke that hangs over it, the older portion of Edinburgh is known as
"Auld Reekie."

Talented.

Jewett—"Yes; he can lie in eight languages and swear in nine."

True Enough.

Halt the world don't know how they live themselves.—Life.

Fruit and Vegetable Juices.

Fruit and vegetable juices, on account of their organic salts, are of great value as cleansers and in the elimination of waste water from the system. It is always best to remove pulp of fruit before eating, as the cellular walls are indigestible and fill the system with waste matter. It is always the cellular walls that cause indigestion and not the fruit juice.

Cuckoo Superstitions.

In Norfolk (England) people believe that whatever you are doing the first time you hear the cuckoo will be the thing you are destined to do most frequently throughout the coming year.
Another popular superstition is that an unmarried person will remain single as many years as the number of times the cuckoo, when first heard, utters its call.

Two Interesting Patents.

Among recent patents which attract attention by reason of their novelty are one for making sausages without casings (a searing process) and one for an illuminated flat iron. The latter contrivance is described as containing incandescent light bulbs which serve at the same time to heat the iron and to illuminate the work which is being ironed.

Sacrilegious English Boys.

Attracted by the tolling of the bells of the parish church of Denby, Derbyshire, England, a bellringer the other day entered the church and found that the candles on the Communion table had been lighted and a bonfire made in the chancel, apparently by boys, the vicar's Bible, hymn books, and loose papers being used as fuel.

Cultivate a Gentle Voice.

I would say to all: use your gentlest voice at home. Watch it day by day as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice is a joy, like a lark's song, to a hearth at home. Train it to sweet tones now and it will keep in tune through life.—Ellhu Burritt.

With the Baked Beans.

She was five years old and lived in the city. Her mother had taken her to a farm for a visit and was pointing out the little vegetables to the little girl. "These are cabbages," said
the mother, pointing to some cabbage plants. "Where does the corn beef grow?" said the miss, in all seriousness.

Easy to Defy Evil Spirits.

The Chinese believe that evil spirits are able to move only in straight lines and that they cannot penetrate through solid matter, therefore the problem of keeping them out of a dwelling or a garden seems to them
a simple matter.

Made Wedding Realistic.

At the wedding of a Leicester (Eng.) freeman, solemnized in the ruins of a half-burned church, the bridegroom was conveyed to the ceremony on a motor fire-engine, and his comrades formed an arch of axes for the newly-married pair.

Lengthy Cough.

The tiger came toward me, bellow-ing and grunting, and when he got opposite the screen he gave one of those fearful coughs which only a man who has been close to such a beast can appreciate. It was eleven feet long.— London Standard.

Photographic Map of the Sky.

stars, has been prepared in sections versity. The whole map would cover more than five acres.

Sulphur Good Plant Food.

Reflection Stimulates the Mind.
As in the silence of night the ear catches the least sound, so in the solitude of reflection the mind detects soft and delicate strains of thought unheard in the bustle of the crowd.
—Prentice Mulford.

Classics in Upheaval.

At the time of a car strike it was a Cambridge high school boy who translated scabbes extremum, capiat (the devil take the hindmost) as "let the scab take the rear platform." —Boston Herald.

The beneficial effects of sulphur as a plant food have been shown by A. Demolon, a French experimenter, on such plants as cabbage, turnip and radish.
It seems to favor the development of chlorophyll, retarding the yellowing of plants in drought.

First Religious Book in America.

The first religious book published on the American continent was printed in the City of Mexico by order of the Roman Catholic bishop there. This was the first work of any kind from movable type issued in the new world and bears date 1485. In point of collaborators the most pretentious work published on this continent is "The Catholic Church in the United States," which has six thousand different co-authors, all but a dozen of whom are actively identified in some way with the American hierarchy.

Odd Case of Friendship.

At the present time a most unusual case of affection between a domestic and a comparatively wild animal is to be witnessed at the Little English hamlet of Spoonley, near Market-Drayton.
On the farm of Mr. William Woodburn for a week or two past, a small rough, somewhat vicious terrier from the farmstead has been noticed gamboling in the fields with a large well-developed hare. Such an attachment is most uncommon.

Contrasts in Domestic Service.

Americans who can keep only one servant, and who often cannot keep that one very long, sometimes sigh for the supposedly domestic tranquillity of the old world—and yet here is a paragraph in the London Times saying that a certain marquis was summoned to a London police court for "keeping four male servants without having il-lenses," and fined forty shillings with costs. Life is not without its troubles even for marquises with several servants.

What They Both Lacked.

An old farmer went to a cattle show to exhibit a favorite cow, with which he had high hopes of winning the first prize. On learning the result, and that his cow had placed fifth, his anger knew no bounds; and, rushing into the ring, he attacked the judges.
"Why is my cow not first? What are her faults, I'd like to know?" At this point one of the judges approached him and answered: "Her faults, my good man, are somewhat akin to your own. She lacks good breeding."

Speaking of Names.

Just before retiring the other night
we threw up our fropt window for a view of the heavenly firmament. Out of the soft silence stole a sweet voice calling "Gladstone! Gladstone!" in endearing tones. We went to bed in considerable wonderment. By evening of the following day our wife had discovered that our new next-door neighbor has a cat by that name.—Joe Chapple's News-Letter.

standing inventions and structures.

telegraphy, synthetic chemistry, radium, antitoxins, aviation, the Panama canal and the telephone.

More by Shakespeare.

The broad back of Shakespeare has still another load to bear; it seems that he wrote the Psalms. The word
"Shakespeare" contains four vowels and six consonants; 4 and 6 placed together signify 48; in the 48th psalm the 46th word is "shake," and the 46th word from the end is "spear."

Her Idea of Player Piano.

An observing little miss of five was visiting one afternoon at a house where there was a player piano, and she was much interested. On her return home she described it to her mother as a machine into which they poked a porous plaster and ground it up into music.

Grew Great Through Striving.

The masters of the world molded their own destinies—they grew great, step by step, and year by year. They stayed great because each inch of their progress was a contest with somebody else, until they had defeated, by sheer ability, every opponent.—
Herbert Kaufman.

Why, of Course.

"How to Attract the Birds" is the title of a new book by a well known author, with a profound knowledge of natural history. But why all this erudition? We always supposed there was just one simple method—to put salt on their tails.—News-Letter.

NOTICE TAG GIRLS.

Taggers of Market street district and all those who are willing to help as taggers will kindly meet at St. John's Chapel on State street, Friday afternoon at three o'clock. It is hoped many will volunteer to help in this way and will come to where they are most needed.

TAG DAY.

St. John's Chapel will be open all day Thursday and Friday for the hands to the chariters for Tag, distribution of Tags, Caps and the committee on Tag Day feel very much encouraged and look for large returns for this noble institution,

Importance of Iron in Blood.

Iron is one of the most important of organic salts. It makes good red blood and distributes the oxygen taken in from the air. Cooking any foods containing organic iron destroys its usefulness, as it is converted into an insoluble element. Lettuce contains much iron. Other vegetables containing iron are spinach, carrots, onions, strawberries, etc.

The Way It Happened.

A lady's hat was set on fire one day last week in the city, apparently by a match thrown from the top of an omnibus, and completely destroyed. Some idea of the vastness of the structure may be gathered from a report to the effect that the fire raged for some time in the north end of her headgear before the lady was aware that anything was amiss.—Punch.

Our Frequent Critics.

A member of congress noticed recently that there are nearly two hundred different works in the congressional library devoted to "The American Crisis," or some slight variation of that title. Few of them refer to the same crisis. In other words, we have reached the crisis of affairs in this country nearly two hundred times.

Something New in Game Laws.

A proposed new game law in New York state will make the open season for deer-hunting later in the year, with the purpose, in part, of preventing the accidental shooting of human beings. It is thought that when the trees are denuded of leaves the night affected with "buck fever" will be less likely to shoot his guide or companion.

Mystery of Love.

If a man should importune me to give a reason why I loved him I find it could no otherwise be expressed than by making answer, because it was he; because it was I. There is beyond all that I am able to say, I know not what inexplicable and fated power that brought on this union.—Montaigne.

"Systematic Burglar."

A burglar in New York was in such a hurry to leave a home at which he called professionally that he left behind him a book containing a list of the places he had "burgled," alphabetically indexed. When arrested he informed the police that he was a "systematic burglar."

Great skill is required in manufacturing champagne bottles, which must be almost mathematically even in the thickness of the glass. The glass must be perfectly smooth and the necks exact in every particular to insure perfect corking.

COMFORT IN HOT DAYS

WELL TO LIVE OUT OF-DOORS WHEN IT IS POSSIBLE.

Screened Porches Will Help Much to Get Away From the Ill Effects of the Heat—Open Air Sleeping Places the Best.

Most of the advantages of camping out may be enjoyed at home by those who live in houses with grounds about them. When the family owns a tent it may be pitched in the yard or in the summer and the children may be allowed to sleep there whenever they wish, weather permitting. The bedding should be brought in whenever it rains, and kept well aired. An old bed spring and a mattress or old cot provide satisfactory sleeping accommodations. Dark outing flannel pajamas are the best sleeping garments for camping out, and they should be provided for all the children regardless of sex.

The next step is the screening of the back or side porch. An ordinary kitchen table should be moved out there and there the family may eat their meals in comfort in hot weather. They may even spend the evening there in comfort. In the morning the mother may do most of her housework there. It is possible to wash there and even iron with the aid of an alcohol stove, which costs a quarter and which is now part of every camping outfit. The stove must be carefully used, but it accommodates a single iron with safety and convenience.

The same little stove will make it possible to let the range fire go out early in the afternoon and stay out. It is quite possible to cook the single hot dish which is enough for the summer supper on the stove. Toast may be made before the fire goes out and then warmed on the place which covers the dish in which milk, tomatoes or creamed meat is being warmed to spread over it. Breakfast may be supplemented to coffee or milk for the children, cereal toast or rolls.

The up-to-date camping party takes along a fireless cooker to supplement the camp fire and alcohol stove, and this the housekeeper should never be without. It will make it possible to do the afternoon cooking without the range, even when a full meal is to be served, for the water for tea or coffee may be prepared on the alcohol stove.

The mother should spend every moment she can out of doors. It is easy to keep a rocking chair on the screened porch and shell the peas and peel the potatoes there, and the baby will be safe there all of the time provided the door is fastened. As a matter of fact, he should take his nap out there all the year round except in rainy or very cold weather.

The sewing machine may be wheeled out for afternoon use, and hand sewing should also be done in the open air. There is no particular virtue in the camping tent. The outdoor air is quite as accessible at home as in the woods.

The screened-in porch may be a blessing, not only by day, but also by night. Its roof, if slanting, may easily be built up level and provided with a board or canvas roof. It should then be screened in like the lower story. The advantage of such an outdoor sleeping place for a delicate child or older person might be very great.

Stewed Rhubarb With Lemon.

Choose tender stalks of rhubarb, trim and remove any tough portions of skin. Do not scrape, a way the delicate ed as it adds to the appearance of the finished dish. Cut the stalks into pieces an inch long, cover with a couple of slices of lemon. Add sugar to taste, heat to the boiling point and chill before serving. Some prefer to add a few seeded raisins with the slices of lemon, and those who like this fruit the combination can be recommended. Rhubarb is really a spring medicine and is invaluable this season of the year.

Rye, Barley and Oats.

Rye is the grain of poor countries, and Europe consumes more than nine tenths of the world's supply. Its culture is stationary in the Northwest and west of Europe, and in the south west of France is diminishing. But it is gaining somewhat in Russia, Japan, Tunis and more than all in this country. But still the United States produces less than 2 per cent of the world's supply.

The culture of barley on the contrary, is gaining almost everywhere. At the same time the yield per acre has increased so that the total production is a third more than 40 years ago.

The production has almost doubled in Austria-Hungary, more than doubled in Russia, Australia and Japan, tripled in this country and quadrupled in Canada.

There is also a constant increase in the world's production of oats. The acreage has increased 43 per cent since 1871 and the yield has increased 73 per cent. The United States, Russia, Germany and France lead in production, in the order named.

Woman Prison Warden.

The newly-appointed warden of the prison for the Canton Wandland in Switzerland is a woman, Frau Fanny Porchet. In her application for the post, she said that in the course of her husband's administration as warden, which caused his death, she had acted as warden and found that she was in every way competent to fill the place. Knowing that there might be some doubt as to her physical ability to handle obstreperous prisoners, she offered to meet the strongest man on the police force in a wrestling contest. Frau Porchet was invited to appear before the appointing board and made such a favorable impression that she was appointed without demonstrating her strength. She is 41 years old.—New York Tribune.

Her Advantage.

The woman over fifty, if she's not a fool, has one pull over all men and younger women—she understands people; which the opposite sex never do, and no woman does, till she's old enough to understand herself.

He Explains.

She—"What do you mean by saying that I'm more or less pretty?" He—"Well, she's more pretty than most girls and less pretty than you."—Amplification.

SPURN FARM LIFE

Women, as a Rule, Refuse Riches to Live in City.

Kansas City Priest Finds That Wealthy Farmers Are Not Desired by the Fair Sex as Bridesgrooms.

Kansas City.—Money, comfort, fresh air, good things to eat—such things are not sufficient to tempt marriageable American women away from the cities. Most of them prefer to marry city men, even if they are poorer providers.

That conclusion has been reached by Rev. Father William J. Dalton, pastor of the Annunciation Catholic church here, after reading the letters of 1,352 persons who desire to marry, and have written to him for help.

Father Dalton attracted attention a few months ago through a "school of matrimony" he established in connection with his church to encourage marriage among the young people of his parish.

"The only women who express a willingness to marry farmers are elderly women who find themselves alone in the world," Father Dalton said. "But the farmers who ask for wives are younger men and they do not want to marry such women."

"One man who wrote to me owns three big farms; another has 950 acres of fine farm land, and a third farmer showed me that he had $75,000 in the bank."

"Can you tell me why it is that a woman will not give a proposition like that a minute's consideration, but will choose instead some struggling bank clerk in the city who lives from hand to mouth?"

NEW YORK LEADS IN CAKES

Every Known Shape and Mixture in Pastry May Be Found in Manhattan Bakeries.

New York.—New York city without a doubt turns out the largest and finest variety of cakes made in this country today. Every conceivable form in shape and mixture is to be found here.

Very few cakes are made now that were originally a New York product, for with the advent of the German cake bakers and confectioners, with their wide experience and ingenuity gained in the Fatherland, a bewildering assortment of cakes and pastries in dainty shapes and endless variety confront the New Yorker today.

It is not so many years ago that a coffee ring could only be purchased on the East Side at a German bakery. Now they are made everywhere in greater New York, and their fame and popularity have extended into surrounding sections so that one can purchase them in most any bakery on a Saturday within 50 miles of New York.

Another popular cake made here is a sand tart, or as it is called in German, sand torte. It is a high-cake cake baked in a large mold. It is made of a beaten mixture with a portion of melted butter added after the flour is partly mixed in. When baked the cake is turned out on a tray with the bottom part on top, and is iced all over with chocolate icing so as to show the design of the mold. Some of them are very pretty.

THIS DOG RESISTED ARREST

Bum, a Vagrant, Lives Up to His Name—Had to Use Tackle to Take Him to Pound.

Montclair, N. J.—The biggest joo that Montclair's official dog catcher, David Steinfeld, ever undertook was that when he captured Bum, a huge St. Bernard, 3½ feet in height and weighing 225 pounds.

Bum lived up to his name by frequenting saloons and garages, and in these places he became such a pet that he was never at a loss for a meal or shelter during inclement weather. The dog has all the characteristics of a tramp, including that of laziness, and when Steinfeld urged him toward the pound at a faster rate than he was accustomed to make he lay down in the street.

This happened about the time that school was let out, and soon Steinfeld and Bum were surrounded by a crowd of a hundred boys and girls whose sympathies manifestly were not for the town official. A wagon equipped with block and tackle finally was procured and Bum was taken to the pound.

BIRD'S NEST IS FORTIFIED

Hairpins and Nails Enter in Its Construction—Curiosity Is Placed on Exhibition.

Denver, Colo.—One of the most curiously constructed bird's nests ever seen in Denver is on exhibition at the home of the Denver Dumb Friends' League, No. 1423 Court place. It was picked up by Dr. John M. Gower on the sidewalk in front of the court house, where the wind had evidently blown it.

The nest is a sparrow's and, judging from its peculiar structure, the maker was preparing against the attack of his inherent enemy—man. It might be called a fortified nest. It is made of old sweepings with hairpins and nails woven in at the sides. The points of the pins and the nails stick outward and remind one of rifles sticking through the loopholes of a fortified position.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Stikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Stikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

Premier Scenic Programme

Per Wednesday and Thursday we present a most excellent program, as follows:

"The Ninth International Red Cross Conference." Edison. This picture depicts the activities and progress of the Red Cross Society in their humane efforts to establish a trust aid to the suffering of the world.

"Mary Had a Little Lamb." One the same reel, illustrating the famous poem.

"The Three Valises." Selig. A decidedly unique and dramatic story of mistaken identity and dual personalities.

"Mocking Bird Rag." Whitmark. Miss Lilly Biron.

"Her Hour of Triumph" is a startling drama, richly mounted, and wonderfully portrayed by the Essanay company.

"The Awakening of Jones" is one of the few real comedies pictures of the year, featuring Mr. John Bunny and Miss Flora Finch.

"She Was My Dad's First Sweetheart." Miss Lilly Biron.

"The Peculiar Nature of the White Man's Burden." A thrilling story of the great Northwest. Selig.

"Anona's Baptism" is a Pacific Indian story of remarkable strength. Chocolate Matinees for the Ladies.

We will present every lady attending our matinees with a box of the celebrated Walter Baker's Chocolates, to each child a package of Double Ballon Gum.

HORSE RAN AWAY

Took Fright at Automobile and Makes Things Lively

The horse attached to one of the United States mail wagons made things lively at the Boston & Maine depot this morning for a short time. The horse was standing backed up to the station when he took fright from an automobile and dashed up Depot avenue at a lively burst of speed. As he turned the corner near Hunt's saloon the wagon capsized and the driver was thrown off. The horse continued only a short distance when he was brought to a standstill. The mail wagon was considerably battered and the driver of the team is lame and sore from his experience. The horse escaped without injury.
